What You Need To Get Started

To begin your Digital Space Vision experience, please gather the following:

- Photos of your space – Clear images from multiple angles.
- Basic measurements - such as room width, length, ceiling height
- Locations and dimensions of doors, windows, or fixed elements.
- Inspiration images – Styles, colors, or spaces you love.
- Color preferences – Tones you'd like to include or avoid.
- Lifestyle needs – How you use the space and who lives there.
- Estimated budget – A general idea for furniture and accessories.

Once we receive these, we'll schedule your Initial Consultation and start designing your dream space.

Initial Consultation

Our design journey begins with a personalized virtual consultation where we get to know you and your space. This meeting is all about understanding your style, needs, and how you live — setting the foundation for a design that feels truly yours.

During this session, we will:

- Discuss the function and flow of the space
- Review the photos, measurements, and inspiration images you provided
- Talk through your design preferences, favorite colors, and any specific must-haves or dislikes
- Understand your daily habits, lifestyle, and who uses the space
- Identify any existing furniture or elements you'd like to keep
- Define a realistic budget for furniture and accessories
- Establish your goals and priorities for the space

This step ensures we're aligned from the beginning — combining your vision with our expertise to build a clear, creative, and functional design plan moving forward.

First Design Presentation

In this stage, we present the first visual translation of your vision. Based on the insights from our initial consultation, we'll share two distinct layout and design concepts, each crafted to reflect your preferences, functional needs, and lifestyle.

During this meeting, you will:

- Review two space layout options, including furniture arrangement and flow
- Explore color palettes, textures, and moodboards aligned with your aesthetic
- See the initial design direction for your space — from overall ambiance to materiality
- Select the concept that best resonates with you
- Decide if you'd like to incorporate any custom furniture pieces tailored specifically for your project

This step is collaborative and creative — we'll walk you through each concept, explain our design choices, and listen closely to your feedback to refine the direction before moving forward.

Design Development

Once you've selected your preferred concept, we begin refining it into a complete, realistic interior design proposal. This stage brings your space to life with carefully selected pieces and immersive visualizations, giving you a clear picture of the final result before any purchases are made.

In this phase, we deliver:

- A fully developed layout with finalized furniture placement and flow
- Selection of real furniture, accessories, lighting, and finishes
- A realistic 3D visualization that lets you preview your future space in detail
- Material suggestions and styling notes to guide the look and feel
- One complimentary round of design revisions.

This is where function meets style — ensuring your space not only looks beautiful but works perfectly for your day-to-day life. Your feedback during this stage is key to finalizing a design that's both visually compelling and tailored to you.
